

IN MEMORY OF FORMER RABBI

the Lord of Hosts, is Israel exalted."

Memorial Window Unveiled.

The sermon was followed by the ceremony of unveiling the memorial window, a tribute from his former pupils and admirers, to the lamented Rev. M. J. Michelbacher, the pioneer minister unto this congregation, who served this people for more than twenty years, and, dying, left his impress on generations to come. The window is a beautiful specimen of cathedral art glass, and is located in the southeastern portion of the synagogue. Its richness of coloring contrasts with the untinted glass which, in diamonds, panes and triangles, form the other windows.

After an appropriate address by Rev. Dr. Calisch, the beautiful memorial was unveiled by Mrs. May Michelbacher Asher, of this city, the eldest child of the honored preacher and teacher, who was escorted up the aisle to the point from which she drew aside the veil by Mr. Isaac Held, one of the board of trustees of the congregation. The ceremony was executed without a hitch or fault.

Dr. Calisch was particularly earnest and discriminating in his eulogy of the distinguished rabbi of the early Beth Ahabah, by whose work the modern congregation had nourished and cherished in its formative period. The address was largely a recital of the early history and the struggles of this congregation, at first a feeble but determined and untiring band and then gradually growing. Dr. Calisch paid a high tribute to Mr. Michelbacher on his fine work in time of war in ministering to the soldiers and the youth of the city, whether of his own or other faith. President Davis, of the Confederacy, and General Robert E. Lee were friends of this faithful rabbi, and aided him in his work of looking after the spiritual as well as the material interests of the Jewish soldiery. Said the speaker of his work as a teacher:

"The school he taught was frequented by Christian as well as Jewish children, for this was in the days before the public schools. The training was splendid. Likewise in the religious school of the congregation, and what the present generation of the congregation of Beth Ahabah is due, in great measure, to the influence and teaching of Mr. Michelbacher."

"His pupils, now to manhood and womanhood grown, have put in this window as a memorial to him and a token of their appreciation of his work and of his influence. It is not only an honor to him; it is an honor to the congregation and to those who gave the window."

WARNS MERCHANTS.

Justice Crutchfield Says They Will All Pay Before Wednesday.

Justice Crutchfield expects a packed house on next Wednesday morning. All wholesale and retail merchants who sell food products, such as milk, butter, eggs, sugar, coffee, tea, meat, fruits and vegetables, must secure a license by Tuesday, or failing so to do, pay a fine not exceeding $50.

"The cost of the license is but $2, and Justice Crutchfield is anxious that all merchants concerned should have fair warning."

Yesterday morning His Honor sent for The Times-Dispatch man and asked him to publish a warning to the merchants so that they would not be brought before him on Wednesday.
